SOURCE

1. In August 1950 various acts of sabotage and theft were carried out by workers employed in the Ivo Lola Ribar Machine Tool Factory in Zeleznik. Following this incident public trials were held in the factory auditorium where the suspected workers were tried. All the workers employed in the factory were required to be present.
2. After the workers were cross-examined and made to testify, one of the workers was sentenced to hang, while others found guilty were sentenced to several years of heavy labor. The death sentence was carried out immediately after the court recessed and in the presence of all factory employees.
